COUNTY CONVENTION

Unusual Local Interest in the Affair —Glendale's Delegation Holds a Unique Position in the Supervisory Contest

Over 800 representatives of the Republican party met in convention at the Shrine Auditorium Tuesday last in Los Angeles to make up a ticket for the party to be voted on at the coming election in November. The daily papers have given full accounts of the proceedings and we need only refer to that portion of the same which is of local interest. The "organization" was clearly in control of the convention and out of the nine assembly districts they nominated all the legislative candidates except in this (the 67th) where Mr. H. G. Cattell of Pasadena received the nomination for the assembly, having been endorsed by the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League. The chief interest of the convention centered in the supervisor contests which were not reached until Wednesday morning. It was very apparent from the opening of the convention that the fight between Patterson and Pridham would be perilously close. The strength of Mr. C. F. Parker in the convention had dwindled down to three or four delegates, but it was evident that these few held the key to the situation; should they or a majority of them switch over to either of the other aspirants, the fight would be ended. Under this condition it may readily be imagined that the Glendale delegation was courted assiduously, and the courting had to be done in person for Mr. Parker could not "swing" them. In the good old days when "boodle" was king and the methods of the successful manipulator were more crude than now, there would have been many mysterious "flops" noticeable from time to time as the vote buyer got in his work. On this occasion, however, both sides and the few in the middle stood firmly by their colors to the last. One of Patterson's adherents saw the error of his way and came over to Pridham, bringing the contest to a close. The first round occurred when the vote on the selection of a chairman for the district convention took place and resulted in the election of Mr. Gwin of Lankershim, the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidate, by a vote of 49 to 48. This did not indicate anything positive, however, as it was not known how the Parker delegates voted. The first ballot resulted: Pridham 48; Patterson 45; Parker 4. The second, Pridham 47; Patterson 46; Parker 4. The Glendale delegation was still the center of attraction and the members were but too hotly interested in the fight between Patterson and Pridham, but they refused to be swayed either to one side or the other. Excitement ran pretty high when the third ballot was called and when the chairman announced that Pridham had the requisite 49 votes, there was a wild scene of enthusiasm among the Pridhamites. The vote stood Pridham 49; Patterson 44; Parker 4. Patterson had lost a vote somewhere in the deal—and the Glendale delegates still voted for Parker. Had Mr. Parker's delegation been composed of men who were willing to take orders from him or any one else, the end might have been reached sooner and whichever way they might have gone they would have always rested under some shadow of suspicion whether just or otherwise, for their votes were valuable. Fortunately for the reputation of Glendale this was not the case; they supported Mr. Parker as they elected to do, went down with colors flying and came out with all the honors possible from a very trying and delicate position.

F. M. (Bud) Wright of Chatsworth, who has not missed a Republican convention for 32 years, was on deck as keen and able as ever. He can give some of the more youthful politicians a good many valuable pointers and can be depended on all the time.

Ed Fischer was among the other good men and true who "got left" and viewed the convention from the outside. He has not missed being a delegate from Burbank for many years before.

Walter Parker kept discreetly in the background, but we understand that he had his hand on the tiller just the same and he was attainable by phone. Several details of the program bore evidence of his "fine Italian hand."

The account of the supervisor contest in this district as given by the Los Angeles Times, is about as far from being truthful as the imagination can conceive, and that paper has some pretty imaginative reporters. That "Pridham was handicapped by the support of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League," is ridiculously untrue. He had 48 votes of the Leaguers from start to finish, with the exception of the second ballot when one went to Patterson to return on the third ballot, bringing the necessary 49th with it. The so-called "Taft Republicans" stood with Patterson all the time and no sane observer of the contest could doubt whom the "Taft Republican" machine was backing. As far as the effect of the efforts of the Union Laborites was concerned, it was absolutely nil. As a prognosticator, the Times is equally unreliable. The Democratic convention has not met as we write, but we venture the prediction that John Wilson will not be its candidate against Pridham.

GLENDALE, TROPICO AND VICINITY.

Present Conditions and Future Possibilities.

Considering that it is midsummer and that a great many of our citizens are absent on vacations, Glendale is quite properly prosperous. There has been no "slump" in the valuations of property. We have not heard of any of the lots that have been sold on deferred payments reverting to their original owners. On the contrary, our property continues to be in demand, particularly in exchange for property in Los Angeles and elsewhere.

New buildings are being started every few days and the outlook generally is good. As a place for homes our city with Tropico and the section adjoining Glendale, particularly on the West, is rapidly growing in popularity. One fine section of our city, that portion east of Adams street, is only waiting the advent of a railroad, which we believe will not be long delayed, to start in on an era of great development. With a growth on the east equal to that on the West Side we shall begin to realize that Glendale is a city in more than name. Our population at present within the city limits must be between 2500 and 3000, which is about twice what it was two years ago; while in Tropico and our surrounding contiguous territory, including West Glendale and the Casa Verdugo section there are fully as many more people. What we need at present more than anything else is a car line connecting the San Fernando and Verdugo roads. Our people need to be brought more closely together and some means of doing this must be provided. The projected railroad from Eagle Rock to Glendale avenue promises to answer this purpose to some extent, but it should go all the way through, as indicated above. Recognizing the necessity of this connecting link, we believe our people will aid by any means in their power a practical scheme for its consummation. We are glad to note a gradual decline of that spirit of sectionalism which is natural in a young and growing town in its years of immaturity, and a more harmonious working together of the parts which constitute the general community. Among the thoughtful and poorly informed minority of our citizens the expression of this infantile spirit occasionally crops out, but it will disappear in the natural process of growth. We are getting too large to indulge any longer in the weaknesses of childhood. Now, all together, let us grow.

MR. AND MRS. J. SHROPSHIRE HONORED.

Perhaps there was no more happy event of the social week than when, to properly observe the twenty-first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shropshire, a veritable cloud of "Silver Leaves," in other words, practically all the members of Lodge 267 "The Silver Leaf" order of Rebekahs, Los Angeles, descended in a body upon their very much surprised host and hostess who had been old neighbors, true and tried, once upon a time at Pico Heights. In the absence of their mother, their daughters, Misses Lillian and Birdie, had very beautifully decorated the home with flowers and ferns, giving out the information that they expected some of their own friends.

The guests came laden with beautiful gifts and plenty of the where-with to supply the excellent four-course dinner which was one of the surprises. Social conversation and lively music furnished amusement until guests had to scramble for the last car to the city, leaving behind them a hostess so overcome with happiness she could not bid them good-bye.

A very quiet wedding ceremony was performed on Tuesday the 11th inst. at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. Burton, the happy contracting parties being Mr. Frank Bean and Miss Harriet Purdy, both of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Pack were reported last week as being off on a three months' visit to the far North, when as everybody knows they are gone for three weeks only. Reports received from the travelers are to the effect that they are having a delightful time.

The telephone played a trick on our reporter last week when it sent Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bulkeley to "Dubuque, Montana," instead of to Butte, Montana, which is really on the map and is the destination of Mrs. Bulkeley, although Mr. Bulkeley is reported as lingering by the wayside to rejoin Mrs. Bulkeley later.

Frank Zerr and his son, Elijah, have returned from a camping trip. They went up the Little Tejon and into the mountains to the Eastward. They failed to find game either large or small with the exception of mountain quail and as these birds are protected by law until September 1st, they were of course immune.

YOUNG FOLKS ENTERTAINED.

To honor their houseguest, Master James A. Ferber of Wyoming, Mrs. Menzo Williams and her daughters, Misses Nellie and Emma, very delightfully entertained on Wednesday a number of young people, at their home in North Glendale, from five to seven o'clock. A unique feature was the contest when the little people climbed to the summit of one of the small hills near the home for a reward. The prizes were a handsome calendar and a picture, won by Miss Blythe Monroe and Master Leo Addison.

A repeat delightfully dainty and appropriate was served beneath the trees near the house, and later music and dancing was enjoyed. Misses Emma and Myrtle Pulliam contributed, besides some good music, a very lively dance of pretty figures; graceful Viola Yorba danced her way into the hearts of the children in a manner bewildering and charming to all; and Blythe Monroe set the children laughing with her famous little Irish jig. Little Harriet Williams contributed a couple of little waltzes. Miss Emma Williams gave quite a number of instrumental numbers.

Then came the best fun of all, a grand hayride by starlight, the conveyance garlanded with pepper boughs, decked with flags and well lighted with bobbing lanterns.

Among those invited were Blythe Monroe, Evangeline Hunchberger, Emma and Myrtle Pulliam, Viola Bernice and Harriet Williams; Ernest Martinez, Ernest Dyer, Earl and Milton Brown, Douglas Bathis and Leo Addison.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

The custom has become pretty firmly established in Glendale to spring a "birthday surprise" upon any party guilty of an anniversary, especially if it is a birthday.

According to statistics there are more birthday cakes made in our town to the square inch than in any other municipality touching our environment. "Made in Southern California" applied to a genuine Glendale birthday cake would make a showing at the annual exhibit of which we might well be proud—we have all had 'em "just the same as that."

However this may be, the surprise sprung on Glendale's far-famed violinist, M. Clarence Peck, was the real thing. It was a genuine surprise all right, and Dr. and Mrs. Hunt very pleasantly entertained him at dinner, while the clans were gathered at his home on Third street. They sent for him. It worked, so everybody had a good time. Whist furnished a vehicle for amusement and for real entertainment music was furnished by the host on "The old violin." Miss Evelyn Ayres of Tropico rendered a sweet lullaby, but as no one took the hint to go home, Miss Emma Pulliam delighted all with several excellent piano solos.

The good supper which followed had been supplied by the guests and every body present had a bang-up good time.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

A well attended meeting of the Prohibitionists of Glendale was held at the City Hall on Tuesday evening to consider the advisability of organizing a prohibition club. Mr. Edgar Leavitt addressed the meeting, asking the opinion of each one present. Without exception they favored an organization. Accordingly a temporary organization was formed, with Mr. Leavitt as chairman, and G. W. Johnson as secretary. It was resolved to meet one week later at the same hall, and form a permanent organization. A committee on plans, also a committee on membership, were appointed. Delegates and alternates were appointed to the county convention holding in Los Angeles, on Thursday, August 20th, as follows: Edward Ross, W. G. Watson and Jas. H. Wells, delegates; Rev. N. J. Burton, J. C. Lennox and F. M. Farrand, alternates.

There will in all probability be a series of prohibition meetings with good public speakers, etc., in the near future. Much enthusiasm was exhibited and stirring events are anticipated for Glendale.

Everybody is invited to attend our meeting next Tuesday evening at the City Hall. Come and welcome. Come for the public good.

SECRETARY.

TENNIS MATCH POSTPONED.

The tennis match between the Hollywood and the Glendale clubs, which was to have come off on our home grounds at the Country Club House, Monday 5th, next, when it will undoubtedly occur and probably attract even more attendance than had it occurred today. The postponement was rendered necessary on account of the absence from Hollywood of a number of their players.

TROPICO

John Fishel has returned from a few days' visit with friends at Sawtelle.

Mr. Cannon, manager of the Glassell Ranch, left on Thursday for Oceanside.

Fred O'Neill of Tenth street, left on Monday for Chico, where he has secured a position.

Mrs. A. L. Davidson of Los Angeles was the guest of Mrs. Charles Fishel of Park avenue.

Mrs. James R. Maxwell visited Mrs. Leona Bettannier and family of Pasadena the past week.

Dr. Nelson Richmond of Madison, N. Y., is visiting at the residence of Dr. A. H. Guernsey on Park Avenue.

Miss Myrtle Harrison, accompanied by her cousin, Minnie Mathiason of Los Angeles, is enjoying Long Beach this week.

Miss Margaret Edelman of Central avenue has returned from a pleasant visit to friends and former school mates at El Monte.

There will be a library tea held at the Tropico Free Library building, Thursday, August 27th, from 2 to 5 p. m. The general public are cordially invited. Contributions will be received from those present to purchase books for the library.

A number of Mr. Guy Emerson Rice's friends of Tropico, Glendale and Los Angeles, remembering that he had a birthday anniversary Monday evening, tendered him a genuine surprise at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rice. A most delightful evening was enjoyed with music and merry conversation.

Miss Cora Hickman, accompanied by her nephew and niece, Eugene and Marjorie Imler, and Dorothy Leech, are spending a week camping in Pico Canyon. Mr. J. B. Hickman will join his daughter and grandchildren later when he will spend several days deer hunting in the canyon and enjoying camp life among the pines.

Andy Stephenson has been making very noticeable improvements in his meat market. A large new refrigerator and ice box has been put in and by a rearrangement of the rooms the quarters have been greatly enlarged, presenting a much more attractive appearance and giving greater facilities for serving the public and handling satisfactorily the growing business.

About six o'clock last Tuesday evening the drying kiln and contents, connected with the planing mill of the Tropico Manufacturing company, became overheated and caught fire. The alarm fire department responded to the alarm but when it arrived was unable to do anything on account of inability to get water. However, a small hose line was established connecting the fire with the Tropico Tile Works and the fire was kept from spreading to nearby property. Had the wind been blowing a serious conflagration might have resulted, as the kiln is less than a hundred feet from the planing mill, a Chinese wash house is within a similar radius and the Tropico Lumber Company's yard is just across the street. As it was, the loss amounts to from $500 to $700, with no insurance, the kiln and its contents being destroyed.

MONDAY MUSICAL.

It is an open secret that the little social affairs planned by the various members of the Woman's Auxiliary are very popular and each affair given so far has been amply able to sustain its reputation for high-class entertainment. The musicale of Monday last was no exception when the beautiful parlors of the Country Club House were once more thrown open for merriment and their guests. Pleasure laughed at the closeness of the weather and gathered to herself dozens of sweet maidens and daintily gowned women, assisted by the chairman of the day, Mrs. L. C. Rice of Tropico, by the gracious president, Mrs. Charles E. Shattuck and Mrs. Balthis, Mrs. Griswold and Mrs. Richardson.

The beauty of the assembly room had been enhanced with garlands of old English ivy and for color, the yellows and browns of wayside sunflowers were effectually grouped.

The programs were daintily hand-painted with a design of sunflowers, done by Mrs. C. D. Griswold. Miss Emma Williams, with a musical theme to tell and the sure knowledge of how to express it, gave the first number and graciously responded to an encore with a dainty bit requiring the most exquisite touch.

The second number was furnished by an orchestra of string pieces, "Romance Waltz," very entrancing and very hard on the feet, followed by the encore, "Medley F."

Those for whom the instruments gave such sweet music were Messrs. Guy and Jay Rice, Tropico, and Mrs. Reynolds, Miss Reynolds, Miss Perry of Los Angeles.

Miss Grace Jones, a young singer of much promise, from Los Angeles, sang two soprano solos; Miss Blythe Monroe enlivened the program with an Irish jig thoroughly well executed; and Miss Helen Tyler, pupil at Dobson's School of Expression, gave much pleasure with her reading "The Pudding" and encore "First Call on the Butcher."

Another reader was Miss Lillian Shropshire, who rendered two very laughable numbers.

Then followed the Romance of Arno when the guests were asked to write the titles of songs as they were given by Messrs. Rice. For guessing correctly the highest number the prize of a handsome picture of old music masters was awarded to Mrs. L. C. Brand. The romance read as follows in "America": "On the Banks of the Wabash," "Annie Laurie" walked with "Little Annie Rooney," "Just as the Sun Went Down" when she heard "N.C. Her Sweetheart," "Coming Thro' the Rye" whistling, "Alone Where Art Thou" going. So she waited and said "Oh, My Yankee Sailor Boy" "Why Art Thou So Sad" and he answered "Because I Love You" and "I Am Going Back to Baltimore," so I've come to say "Bright Eyes, Good-Bye."

Then she listened to the "Sweetest Story Ever Told" and he said "Oh, Tell Me That You Love Me and the World Is Mine." He started to "Say Au Revoir but not Good-bye," but she exclaimed "Won't You Come Over to My House" because "I'm Afraid to go Home in the Dark." So he took her back to "The Old Folks at Home," and "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree" said "I'm Going to Leave" my "Just One Girl" with you but I'll be back to claim my "Irish Rosie" and we'll live "In My California Bungalow" "Only Forty-five Minutes from Broadway." After this the guests repaired to the dining room where punch and cakes were served by Miss Lela Richardson, Miss Griswold, Miss Lucile Parker and Miss Anna Woodberry.

FIRE EXTINGUISHER TEST.

The conflagration exhibit given north of Logan's hall last Saturday evening would have been a fair test for a forty or fifty gallon chemical fire extinguisher, or for a two-inch stream of water of forty or fifty pounds pressure, instead of the small dry powder "Liberty" chemical extinguishers which were used.

Owing to the inexperience of the operator the test was somewhat of a farce and served as an amusement for the boys and possibly for some of the elder spectators, but was far from such for said operator.

On Monday evening, August 31, at 8 p. m., there will be given at the same place a similar test but of less severity of power, and it is to be hoped of disagreeable consequence to the aforesaid operator.

As this exhibit may be of vital interest to all property owners, either in the form of houses or of their contents, it may be well for them to come and see it.

A. L. CHANDLER,
Agent "Liberty" Fire Extinguisher.

A DAINY DINNER.

One of the charming events of the past week was the daintily appointed dinner given in observance of the birthday of Mrs. Charles E. Shattuck, in her home on Central avenue. The dinner of several courses was an honor to the occasion and a centerpiece of regal Duchess roses graced the table. Among guests who furnished music that was a compliment to the hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Shank and Mrs. Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Glendale were also guests.

YELLOW CARS TO GLENDALE.

Property Owners on Third Street Agree to Convey Strip Making Right of Way Complete.

The Los Angeles Railway will have a complete right of way into the heart of the city of Glendale when the property owners on Third street have finished signing the deed to a strip twenty-four feet wide, which they have agreed to convey to the company for railway purposes. The City Trustees have agreed to abandon the street on next Wednesday morning, at which time the deed will be placed in escrow. The Supervisors have already given the necessary rights in the district between the Los Angeles municipal limits and the Glendale line, so that there is a complete route ready from the present Eagle Rock terminus. The concession is on condition that work shall begin within sixty days and be finished in four months.

This will run the yellow cars from the center of Los Angeles right into Glendale. At present these charge 10 cents beyond the city limits at Eagle Rock, the only place where this is done. The Los Angeles Interurban charges 15 cents to Glendale and 25 cents for the round trip. The red and green cars pass four blocks to the west and on the edge of town.

In order to give a later service to Eagle Rock, the Los Angeles Railway will start its last car from Twelfth and Main streets at 11:30 instead of 11 o'clock, as was originally planned under the schedule that will begin September 2. The change will accommodate theater-goers.—Times, Aug. 22.

MRS. McCOMBS ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. E. A. McCombs of Mary street gave a party to a number of friends Wednesday afternoon last, which was one of the most successful and enjoyable events of the season. The following ladies were present: Mrs. H. G. Dornay, Mrs. J. Q. Seng, Mrs. Mabelle Messick, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. T. O. Carruthers, Mrs. Geo. Swain, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. J. C. Lessaunier, Mrs. Boyer, Miss Emma Bird, Miss Ruth Boyer, Miss Celia Brock and Mrs. J. D. McKay.

In the games played, Mrs. Geo. Swain took first prize and Mrs. Lessaunier second.

GLENDAL, CAL., AUGUST 22, 1908

Mr. Bryan says in his speech of acceptance that "Only those are worthy to be entrusted with leadership in a great cause who are willing to die for it." This sounds a good deal like playing to the galleries, or is it the prelude to the swan song in November?

H. E. Lawrence of the Alhambra Advocate, says "Good-Bye" to his patrons in his last issue, August 12th. He states that he has sold out to W. E. Willis. We wish Mr. Lawrence improved health and worldly fortune wherever he may go. Mr. Lawrence served until recently as secretary of the Los Angeles County Press association and is well and favorably known to the fraternity.

If one thing in this world is certain it is that the statistics of the internal revenue department are correct. No brewer and no distiller will take chances with the government. Now, instead of a reduction in the amount of malt beverages (beer) brewed, as compared with fifteen years ago, the statistics show something else. The production of malt liquors in 1890 was 853,075,734 gallons; last year the production was 1,698,958,642 gallons—or about double. The consumption of spirits per capita, is decreasing due to a radical change in the habits of the people. The wine consumption, per capita, does not increase, but remains practically stationary.—L. A. Graphic.

PRIDHAM FOR SUPERVISOR.

The voters of the Fifth supervisorial district are to be congratulated upon having the opportunity of voting for a man having the qualifications, mental and moral, and the record of public service performed, which attach to R. W. Pridham. We believe that he will be elected by a very large majority. The prospects are that he will occupy a rather lonesome position on the board of supervisors, similar to that held by Mr. Alexander (who has been retired), but he has the qualities which are requisite for a public official who, being in the minority, can command success by standing up firmly and consistently for the principles which he represents, even though he may stand alone. At all times the members of the board of supervisors should be men of the highest ability and integrity, as their positions are those of the highest responsibility in the county; but just at this time when we are entering upon a Good Roads project involving the expenditure of millions, it is absolutely essential that such a great enterprise should not be dependent upon mere politicians.

THE LYNCHINGS AT SPRINGFIELD.

The outbreak in Springfield, Ohio, carelessly termed a "race riot," is a most deplorable affair and will have a tendency to bring the United States into a certain measure of disrepute among the nations of the world, more so than anything else that has occurred in our recent history. The occasional lynchings throughout the Southern States are bad enough for our reputation as a leader in freedom and civilization, but at their worst they have had some shadow of excuse. The affair at Springfield, however, is without shadow of excuse and is an exhibition of the savagery of our nature. The thin veneering of our civilization every now and then breaks through in spots and shows the savage underlying it, and one of these pitiful exhibitions has just been made at the home of the "Great Liberator." It is to be hoped that a stern example will be made of any one found guilty of the unspeakable outrages against the colored people of Springfield. The sooner the authorities of the State make it understood that lynching is to be regarded as murder and punishable by the same law, the better it will be for the good name of the republic.

THE PARK QUESTION.

There is a tract of nine or ten acres near the geographical center of Glendale that can be secured, we understand, for about $1500 per acre for park purposes. This is the tract referred to by one of our correspondents two weeks ago. We also called attention recently to the lots north of Fifth street on the east side of Glendale avenue, as well adapted for the purpose of a small park. No other sites have yet been suggested, but doubtless there will be others. If we are to have small parks, each consisting say of about half a dozen city lots, it would be well to select them in different parts of the city and secure them by one bond issue. If we are to have the one larger park, its location is not a matter of such prime importance. A park is not like a public building, a postoffice, for instance, which the people naturally wish to be nearby on account of the daily necessity for its service. It is not intended to benefit any particular class of citizens, and is of doubtful influence in adding value to adjacent property. The question of location, therefore, should not be one of great difficulty for the people to agree upon. The thing of prime importance is that we agree to have a park and it is surely the part of wisdom that we do something toward securing either a large one or two or three small ones before it becomes a matter much more difficult of attainment than now. Our columns are open to suggestions pro, con or otherwise.

ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS, BY DIRECT VOTE.

Mr. Bryan in his speech of acceptance gives expression to some very good ideas of government, which however are not very original. The keynote of his address seems to be, "Let the people rule;" and if he should receive the votes of all the voters who believe in that theory he would certainly be elected by a tremendous majority. In a general way nearly everybody believes that the present system of election of senators is defective, and that it would be better to have those who fill positions in that exalted legislative body, elected by a direct vote of the people. Mr. Taft says on the same subject, "Personally I am inclined to favor it, but it is hardly a party question." And Mr. Taft is right. The idea is an old one and not the exclusive property of any party. Theoretically, the wise and patriotic men who framed our constitution, had a high and most commendable object in view when they provided that the members of the "Upper House" of Congress should be chosen in their respective States by the representatives whom the people had chosen. Ideally, what system could be more nearly perfect? The sovereign people, having chosen to represent them a number of men whose ability and integrity were above the average, would the result not be more satisfactory, resulting in the choice of men of greater eminence and fitness if the choice was made by a chosen few? They reasoned deeply that the representatives of the people, chosen because of their especial fitness and political knowledge, could make a wiser choice than could the people themselves, acting as a whole. There is nothing wrong with the theory that better results would be obtained by the direct vote. The trouble is that both ideas are all right as applied to an ideal people and to ideal conditions; but one has failed in the trial of it and it is safe enough to predict that the other will also fail of perfect results. The popular demand for a change in the manner of election, will be acceded to, and the result by the latter method will just be as unsatisfactory as by the former.

There will not under the direct vote be any necessity for spending money on legislators to influence the election of senators; it will take a greater effort and a more general expenditure of money to carry primaries and pack conventions, but the result will be the same. The last senator elected in California owes his election not to a purchasable legislature, but to a triumph at primaries and in convention which was secured by means as indefensible and corrupt as were ever resorted to in politics. Our government will never be a government of the people until the people at large are better informed as to political affairs and feel much more acutely than now the weight of their individual responsibility. The stream can never rise higher than the source; the people are the source of power; they cannot logically expect better results in public affairs until they realize that they should vote, and that in voting well they must vote with intelligence.

A communication was received from Paul V. Tuttle, architect, accompanied by a sketch of proposed fire engine house. Clerk was instructed to have Mr. Tuttle draw up plans and specifications as per his recommendations. Application of Ben H. Nichols for position of building inspector was received and placed on file.

A written opinion of Acting City Attorney Hubert T. Morrow regarding the power of the city to insure the purity of the domestic water supply, was received and filed, and a vote of thanks given to Mr. Morrow for the thoroughness shown in preparing this opinion. The city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance fixing a standard of purity for domestic water in the city of Glendale.

A communication was received from the Petrolithic Paving Co. recommending "Adeline Sunset Oil" for road making. Referred to city engineer and city street department. A communication was received from certain property owners on Third street protesting against the abandonment of that thoroughfare. Time for a hearing in regard to the matter was set for Wednesday evening next at 7 p. m. An opinion from the acting city attorney respecting the duty of railroads in regard to the street crossings and maintaining of tracks above grade of cross streets, was received and filed. The city engineer was instructed to ascertain from the Pacific Electric Railway Co. whether they will lower tracks on Brand Boulevard or otherwise provide for better crossings at intersecting streets. A petition was received bearing a large number of signatures requesting that the trustees take such action as is necessary to secure for Glendale a free postal delivery service. The following resolution was then passed:

"WHEREAS, The petition of 135 citizens of this community has been presented to the board to petition the U. S. postal authorities to make this city a city of free delivery for mail matter; now therefore, the board of trustees of the city of Glendale hereby petition the postmaster general of the United States that the city of Glendale be made a city for the free delivery of mail matter."

Resolution No. 178 ordering certain work to be done on Second street was read and adopted. The city engineer was ordered to prepare a resolution of intention to improve Mary street from Third street to Sixth street.

OUR PRODUCTS.

Almost every day now one can see at the Pacific Electric depot from a dozen to twenty boxes of egg plants being shipped from the North Glendale gardens to the Los Angeles market. A round of the stores shows a varied display of excellent fruit and vegetables that are the product of home gardens and orchards. Beans, onions, squashes, green corn, tomatoes and cucumbers appeal to the housewife irresistibly. Somerset Farm on the Verdugo Road has supplied green corn for the past six weeks, excellent in quality and grown without irrigation. Tomatoes and melons are also coming from the same fertile corner of the corporation. From Sycamore canyon, West Glendale and elsewhere, peaches, prunes, nectarines, plums, pears and strawberries are coming in. Mr. Edmonds on Fifth street and Verdugo Road has a fine well-kept orchard of peach trees and is busy marketing fine Fosters and other varieties. Nectarines, a most delicious fruit, are scarce. They are too perishable to be successfully marketed in large quantities and are really only desirable as a table fruit. The red variety is the only kind yet tried that is a reliable producer. A few have been in evidence at the stores during the past week. Watermelons seem to be running small this season and muskmelons are not yet abundant, although some fine large specimens have come in. Prices from the consumer's standpoint are pretty high, but the producers find the market not as satisfactory as it was last year.

NATURE OF LIGHT.

II.
(For the News)

In popular estimation light has always been symbolical of life, as its antithesis; darkness has been typical of death, and nothing could be truer to nature, for we know that life without light is impossible. This statement, however, requires a somewhat extended definition of light, so as to include the total emanation received from the sun. We habitually regard light as an agent external to ourselves which excites in us the sensation of vision. But in studying this agent we find it is capable of producing other remarkable effects. It raises the temperature of a body exposed to it, and in some bodies it produces chemical changes of most important kinds.

We might have expected that these three effects were produced by three distinct agents mixed together in the radiation; such, however, is not the case, as there is every reason to believe that it is one and the same agent which excites vision, produces heat, and promotes chemical activity. Leaving out of consideration for the present other special effects produced by light on certain substances, it is in this three-fold nature that we must consider light as absolutely essential to the existence of any kind of life. It can easily be understood that vision is not the most important effect of the solar radiations, for though blind we could not survive without a certain amount of warmth, and the only real source of heat on earth is the sun, separated from us, nevertheless, by the enormous distance of 93 millions of miles. Most of our artificial heat results from the combustion of carboniferous matter which at one time, ages ago, became stored with energy through the agency of light. The most important property of light to the human race is probably that promoting chemical activity. It is to one of the effects of this property that the beautiful art of photography is due. This is, however, rather one of the special effects on substances, nitrate of silver in this case, already referred to, and interesting and wonderful as photography may be its importance sinks into insignificance in comparison with other effects of the chemical agency of light. On a cold day we put on extra clothing, or at night we put on extra blankets on the bed, and we feel warmer. Yet the clothing does not originate the warmth, it only prevents the natural heat of the body radiating into space. And the natural heat of the body arises from chemical changes taking place in the food we consume. "After digestion in the stomach and alimentary canal the portions available for nutrition are carried into the blood and circulate through the body, a portion goes to supply the waste tissues, but a larger portion acts as fuel, and by gradual slow combustion furnishes and maintains a continuous supply of heat." Our natural animal warmth is, therefore, derived from the oxidation of some of the constituents of the food we eat. One of the most important constituents of all animal food is carbon which is mainly supplied by vegetation from the air, through the agency of light. Observe a great tree with its enormous trunk, its many branches and thousands of leaves; it is nearly all carbon and most of the carbon it has obtained from the air. Very little of the substance of the tree comes up from the ground. Now carbon exists in the air in the form of an invisible gas, which consists of one atom of carbon in chemical combination with two atoms of oxygen, hence its chemical formula CO₂. It is carbonic acid gas. It is given off in the process of fermentation, from decaying vegetable matter and from the respiration of animals. Taken into the lungs it produces asphyxia and death. But behold the marvel! It is decomposed by the green leaves of plants, which retain the carbon, so necessary to their life and growth, and liberate the oxygen, so necessary to animal life. But this wonderful process only takes place under the influence of light. The oxygen of the air is drawn into the lungs of the animal where it comes in contact with the dark blood charged with carbon, after its passage through the blood vessels of the body. With this carbon the oxygen enters into combination, forming carbonic acid (CO₂) which is exhaled at respiration. In this manner about eight ounces of carbon is exhaled by each adult person every 24 hours. Carbonic acid gas being heavier than ordinary air falls to the ground and finds its way into low levels and deep holes. As we constantly exhale this dangerous gas, if fresh air is not constantly supplied we are obliged to breathe that which we have formerly expelled. The languor and sleepiness we feel in a crowded assembly are the natural effects of a vitiated atmosphere. To quote Dr. Norman Steele, a popular writer on ventilation, "The idea of drinking in at every breath the exhalations that load the air of crowded, promiscuous assembly rooms is a most disgusting one. We shun impurity in every form, we dislike to wear the clothes of another, or to eat from the same dish, we shrink from contact with the filthy and yet, sitting in the same room inhale their polluted breath. Health and cleanliness alike require that we should carefully ventilate public buildings, schoolrooms and sleeping apartments." In this connection we may note that botanical decorations scattered about in concert halls and other places of meeting should consist as far as possible of growing plants which not only produce artistic effects, but tend to purify the air by appropriating the carbon and liberating the oxygen. Thus carbonic acid bears the same relation to vegetable that oxygen does to animal life—the leaf, the plant, lung—through its innumerable little stomata or mouths, drinks in the CO₂, which in that minute leaf-laboratory, by action of the sunbeam, is decomposed, the carbon going to build up the plant, and the oxygen being liberated for our use again. Plants thus exhale oxygen as we exhale carbonic acid. We furnish the vegetable world with air for its use, being in turn supplied by it with that necessary for our own. There is thus a mutual dependence between plant and animal life. Deprived of vegetation we should soon exhaust the oxygen of the air, supplying in its place the noxious carbonic acid, and die, while plants, without animal life would soon exhaust the carbonic acid and die as surely. Who can fail to see in this marvellous adaptation an evidence of Infinite Wisdom? X-RAY.

An Italian, known as the "Owl Helper," was killed Monday morning by the southbound Owl train. His body was found about two miles above Burbank by Conductor Doyle of freight No. 233. Whether the man tried of the hideous life he led and deliberately walked in front of the train or whether he was the victim of an accident may never be determined. He has been around this vicinity for the past ten years. He refused the clothing and food his countrymen gave him and lived as a scavenger. The porters of passing trains, taking pity on the kindly hermit, threw the table refuse out of the window for him. He would follow the northbound Owl in the evening and return to his burrow with the southbound Owl. His body was taken to Paul Undertaking Rooms in Los Angeles where an inquest will be held.

RESOLUTION NO. 177.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO IMPROVE A PORTION OF ORANGE STREET.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:

Section 1. That the public interest and convenience require, and it is the intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, to order the following street work to be done in said City, to-wit:

First: That that portion of Orange street from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street and from the South line of Fifth street to the North line of Sixth street, (excepting such portions of said street as are required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon), be graded and oiled in accordance with the plans and profiles on file in the office of the City Engineer and in accordance with Specifications for the construction of graded and oiled streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 7, except, however, that instead of following that portion of said Specifications contained on page 2, subdivision 4, of said Specifications, which portion reads as follows, "When the surface of the street has been thoroughly cultivated and prepared the first application of oil, consisting of one and one-fourth (1 1/4) gallons of oil per square yard of surface, shall be applied. This coat of oil shall then be thoroughly cultivated and incorporated into the four inches of loose surface soil. After a lapse of not less than twenty-four hours a second application of oil, consisting of three-fourths (3/4) of one gallon per square yard of surface, shall be applied. The second coat of oil shall be lightly harrowed into the surface in such a way as to retain this coat of oil upon the top for a wearing surface," there shall be followed in lieu of said above quoted portions of said Specifications No. 7, the following:

"When the surface of the street has been thoroughly cultivated and prepared, the first application of oil, consisting of one and one-fourth (1 1/4) gallons of oil per square yard of surface, shall be applied. This coat of oil shall then be thoroughly cultivated and incorporated into the four inches of loose surface soil and said street at all times during the application of oil herein mentioned. After a lapse of not less than twenty-four hours a second application of oil, consisting of one and one-fourth (1 1/4) gallons of oil per square yard of surface covered, shall be applied and thoroughly cultivated and incorporated into the four inches of loose surface soil and likewise kept moistened as in first application. After the second application of oil is applied, the street shall be rolled with a smooth roller weighing not less than five (5) tons, until the surface of the street is uniformly smooth and hard. After said street is so rolled a third application of one-half (1/2) gallon of oil per square yard of surface covered, containing not less than 80 per cent. of asphaltum, shall be applied to said street, as a surface covering, and a sufficient amount of clean sharp sand spread over the surface of the roadway sufficient to cover and absorb said oil, and then the roadway shall be thoroughly dragged, sprinkled, rolled and compacted."

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along each side of the roadway of said Orange street from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street and from the South line of Fifth street to the North line of Sixth street in accordance with the Specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 2, except that the top of the street face of all curbs shall be placed ten (10) feet from the property line instead of the distance from the property line provided for in said Specifications Number 2.

Third: That a cement sidewalk, five feet in width, be constructed along each side of said Orange street from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street and from the South line of Fifth street to the North line of Sixth street, said sidewalk to be constructed according to the Specifications for cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 1.

Section 2. That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale find upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer that the total cost of said improvement will be greater than fifty cents per front foot along each line of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined, in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 2, 1893, as amended by an Act of the Legislature amending said last named Act, which amending Act became a law March 2, 1899, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvement. Said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years from their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January every year after their date, until the whole are paid, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum on all sums unpaid payable semi-annually by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid.

Section 3. THE GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention, and notice of the passage thereof, shall be published in the manner and by the persons required by law.

Section 4. The Superintendent of Streets of said City is hereby directed to post notices of the passage of this Resolution in the manner and in the form required by law, and to cause a similar notice to be published by one insertion in said newspaper in the manner required by law.

Section 5. The City Clerk of the said City of Glendale is hereby directed to post this Resolution of Intention conspicuously for two days on or near the Chamber door of the Board of Trustees, and to cause the same to be published by two insertions in the manner required by law in said newspaper.
